

Head, FOD Program

Responsibilities

- Drive and sustain effective implementation of the Company's FOD prevention program based on existing framework as stipulated under the Company's FOD Operating Procedure Manual
- Perform FOD risk assessment on existing work processes, tooling and work areas to identify and mitigate conditions that could cause contamination and/or damage the engines, modules or parts
- Provide continual training to operational staff to strengthen the FOD control on the shop floor
- Participate in each FOD-related investigation and ensure corrective actions implemented to prevent recurrence
- Consolidate and prepare management reports on daily FOD walk statistics from all operational departments. Formulate actions based on unfavourable trend from the reports
- Continuously improve FOD programme framework by analysing latest FOD-related audit findings from internal audit, external audit and customer complaints
- Other duties as may be assigned to him/her by Manager, Operations

Requirements

- Degree in Engineering (Aerospace preferred)
- Minimum 5 years working experience in the Aviation Industry
- Excellent analytical, interpersonal, presentation and communication skills
- Able to work independently in developing solutions
- Able to work well in a team setting and with internal stakeholders

(Only short-listed candidates will be notified)